6.2 Data sharing

Data are collected by the national statistical authorities in the context of the “Common Annual International Collection of Migration Data”. This data collection is granted by Eurostat in collaboration with the Statistics Department of the United Nations, the United Nation’s Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) and the International Labor Organization (ILO).

7. Confidentiality

Top

7.1 Confidentiality - policy

Issues concerning statistical confidentiality by the Hellenic Statistical Authority (ELSTAT) are governed by articles 6, 7 and 8 of the Law 3832/2010, as amended by article 90 paragraph 8 of Law 3842/2010 and by article 10 of Law 3899/2010, as well as by article 8 of Law 2392/1996, which was brought back into force, in accordance with article 90 paragraph 8 of Law 3842/2010.

Furthermore, the dissemination of statistics is effectuated by ELSTAT in accordance with the statistical principles of the European Statistics Code of Practice and in particular with the principle of statistical confidentiality.

In European level the E.U. regulation no 223/2009 for European statistics underlines the necessity to establish common principles and guidelines ensuring the confidentiality of data used for the production of European statistics and the access to those confidential data with due account for technical developments and the requirements of user’s in a democratic society.

7.2 Confidentiality - data treatment

- ELSTAT protects and does not disseminate data it has obtained or it has access to, which enables the direct or indirect identification of the statistical units that have provided them by the disclosure of Individual information, supplied directly for statistical purposes, or indirectly from administrative or other sources. ELSTAT takes all appropriate preventive measures so as the identification of individual statistical units by technical or other means that might reasonably be used by a third party is actually impossible. Statistical results that could potentially enable the identification of the statistical unit are disseminated by ELSTAT if and only if:

- a) they have been modified, as it is specifically set out in the Regulation on Statistical Obligations of the agencies of the Hellenic Statistical System (ELSS), in such a way that their dissemination does not offend statistical confidentiality or
- b) The statistical unit has given its consent, without any reservations, for the disclosure of data.

The confidential data that are transmitted by ELSS agencies to ELSTAT are used exclusively for statistical purposes and the only persons who have the right to have access to these data are the personnel engaged in this task and appointed by an act of the President of ELSTAT.

Issues related to the observance of statistical confidentiality are examined by the Statistical Confidentiality Committee (SCC) operating in ELSTAT. The responsibilities of this Committee are to recommend on:

- the level of detail at which statistical data can be disseminated, so as the identification, either directly or indirectly, of the surveyed statistical unit is not possible;
- the anonymization criteria for the microdata provided to users;
- the granting to researchers access to confidential data for scientific purposes

11. Quality management

Top

11.1 Quality assurance

As mentioned in the article 9 of the no 862/2007 EU Regulation “Member States shall report to the Commission (Eurostat) on the data sources used, the reasons for the selection of these sources and the impact of the selected data sources on the quality of the statistics...”.

Reports on the implementing estimation methods should be submitted in case of using estimates of the data. Moreover, member states should keep the Commission informed of any changes on the data sources and the implementing methods.

Member states collect data in accordance with the article 3 of EU Regulation 862/2007 following the guidelines provided by Eurostat. Consistency check should be implemented before any dissemination of the data.

11.2 Quality assessment

Migration flow data are mainly based on administrative sources. For some data groups statistical estimation methods are implied. In general the quality of that data is considered to be satisfactory. However, there is no sufficient administrative data on the migration flows of Greek and EU citizens.

Immigrants
For the years before 2011, Immigration per year was estimated by using the results of the 2011 Population

Census (answer to the relevant question on the year of entry in Greece and taking into account the coverage error of the Post Enumeration Survey), the results of the MIMOSA project that estimated migration flows to and from EU Member States for the years 2002-2007, and the estimated population as of the 1st January of 1991 and 2011. For the years 2015 and 2016 immigration data include persons residing in the country as a result of the refugee crisis.

In order to estimate the annual immigration percentage that was not “captured” on the basis of the 2011 Population Census due to deaths, departures from the country, etc. the ratios of non-observed to observed values of the immigration of each year as these are derived from the 2011 Population Census were used.

Emigrants

Estimates for the years 1991 – 2013 were produced on the basis of the results of the MIMOSA projects and immigration data of other countries. For the years from 2014 onwards a regression model that has been applied in based on the available data on immigrants from Greece to Germany, as reported by the German Statistical Office DESTATIS.
