06.3	HOSPITAL SERVICES Hospitalisation is considered to apply when the patient is accommodated for the duration of the treatment. Hospital day care and home-based hospital treatment are included as hospices for terminally ill persons. This group covers general and specialist hospitals as well as medical and maternity centres and nursing and convalescence homes, which chiefly provide in-patient services. It also covers the services of institutions serving old people in which medical monitoring is an essential component and rehabilitation centres providing in-patient health care and rehabilitative therapy where the objective is to cure the patient rather than to provide long-term support. Hospitals are defined as institutions, which offer in-patient care under direct supervision of qualified medical doctors. Medical centres, maternity centres, nursing homes and convalescent home also provide in-patient care but their services are supervised and frequently delivered by staff of lower qualification than medical doctors. The group does not cover facilities, such as medical cabinets, clinics and dispensaries, devoted exclusively to out-patient care (06.2), retirement homes for the elderly, institutions for disable persons and rehabilitation centres providing primarily long-term support (12.4).	06.3
